Who's Who 1938

ADRIAN, Edgar Douglas, F.R.S. 1923; M.A., M.D. Cantab.; Hon. D.Sc. (Pa., Oxon, Harvard); LL.D. (McGill); F.R.C.P.; Professor of Physiology, Cambridge University, since 1937; Fellow of Trinity College, Cambridge; b. 30 Nov. 1889; s. of late Alfred Douglas Adrian, C.B., K.C., of the Local Government Board; m. 1923, Hester, d. of late Hume Pinsent, Birmingham; one s. two d. Educ.: Westminster; Trinity Coll., Cambridge; St. Bartholomew's Hospital; Fellow of Trinity, 1913; Oliver-Sharpey Lecturer, Royal College of Physicians, 1925; Foulerton Research Professor of the Royal Society, 1929-37; Baly Medal, 1929; Nobel Laureate (Medicine), 1932; Royal Medal of Royal Society, 1934; associate member Société de Biologie; Hon. Fellow Soc. Ital. di Biol. Publications: The Basis of Sensation, 1928; The Mechanism of Nervous Action, 1932; Papers on the Physiology of the Nervous System in the Journal of Physiology, Brain, etc. Address: Trinity College, and St. Chad's, Grange Road, Cambridge. Club: Athenæum.